

CS 5395 Independent Study Proposal and Approval Form

Independent study courses are offered to teach material not covered in regular courses. These courses are tailored to each individual student based on a course proposal submitted by the student to an advising faculty member. It is preferred for an undergraduate independent study course to have some component of research.

Deadline: To allow sufficient time to complete the approval process and for timely student registration, the application form must be submitted no later than one week before the first day of class.

Submit one copy of this form, with all fields completed (typed only), to the CS Department Administrative Assistant:
Karen Hollensbe – kh48@txstate.edu

Evaluation Criterion for the Independent Study Course:

Once the date, time, and conference room location have been established, the student or supervisor should send an email to the department's administrative assistant. The following information must be provided in the email in plenty of time for an announcement to be distributed:

- Student name; date, time, and location (or Zoom Link) for presentation; title for the independent study project; an abstract of the independent study report; name of the independent study advisor.

2. A written report containing the following items is submitted to the student's supervisor prior to the presentation:

- Cover page (title of paper, name of student, name of advisor, date of submission, course number; motivation/introduction; approach/methodology; results/outcome of the project; conclusion and future works; references; appendix (if applicable).

3. Before the end of the semester, the student must submit an electronic copy of the Independent Study report to the following:

- The student's instructor (independent study supervisor)
- The departmental administrative assistant for posting to the department's faculty share.

Independent Study Course Grading Policy
